GEOTECH is a chemical company based in Haarlem, The Netherlands, supplying special effect pigments such as natural and synthetic mica pearlescent pigments, borosilicate pigments and glitter particles. Product development, colour trend forecasting and technical support create high added value for our customers and partners. Our pigments are used globally in various industries since more than 50 years to differentiate consumer products by creating attractive, luxurious appearances.